Analysis

The purpose of this legislation is to provide right of access to information under the control of institutions in accordance with the principle that information should be available to the public. It allows for necessary exemptions, but mandates that they should be limited and specific. It also protects the privacy of individuals with respect to personal information about themselves held by institutions, while providing individuals with a right of access to that information.

The Freedom of Information office, within the Records and Information Management Unit, processes each access to information request and reports yearly statistics to the office of the Information Privacy Commissioner. A summary of these statistics is provided below.

Statistics Reported to the Information Privacy Commissioner	2022	2021
Number of Freedom of Information requests received	1079	990
Number of personal information requests (i.e., involved party)	1013	908
Number of general information requests (e.g., policies, statistics)	66	82
Number of Police Services Board requests	0	0
Number of appeals filed by the applicant	8	9
Number of appeals still open at end of reporting year	15	12
Number of appeals where the Service decision was upheld or not overturned by the Information & Privacy Commissioner of Ontario	1	7
Number of complaints and compliance investigations	2	0
Number of outstanding requests at end of reporting year	30	65
Extended compliance rate for the reporting year*	85.3%	96.3%

*The Extended Compliance Rate is the percentage of all requests completed within the reporting year that were completed either within the statutory 30-day completion time limit (where no notice(s) were issued) or within the time limit specified in Notices of Extension, section 20(1) and Notices to Affected Persons, section 21(1). Such notices are used in circumstances where, for example, there is a need to search through a large number of records or consult with one or more people outside the organization.

The extended compliance rate for 2022 was affected by the retirement of both FOI Analysts, (July 1 and October 1), and the subsequent appointment and training of new members in the Freedom of Information office, within the Records and Information Management Unit. The backlog of files that developed during the transition has since been eliminated.
