Analysis

The Service has written policies that establish procedures and responsibilities for all members in the policing and management of Indigenous occupations and protests within the Region of Niagara. These policies appear in General Order (GO) 230.03, entitled Policing Aboriginal Occupations and Protests. It is the policy of the Service to protect the individual rights guaranteed within federal and provincial laws, inclusive of those specifically respecting the rights of Indigenous persons of Canada, as set out in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

The Service recognizes that conflicts may arise as Indigenous communities and various levels of government work to resolve outstanding issues associated with matters such as land claims, self-determination and Indigenous or treaty rights. It is the role of the Service to make every effort, prior to an event, to understand the issues and to protect the rights of all involved parties throughout the incident.

Indigenous occupation means: the seizure and control of an area of land arising from assertions of Indigenous or treaty rights by members of an Indigenous group (GO 230.03).

Indigenous trust means: a physical demonstration related to assertions of Indigenous or treaty rights by members of an Indigenous group (GO 230.03).

In accordance with By-Law 491-2024, the Chief shall make a written report to the Board on or before August 30 of each year in respect of Policing First Nations Occupations and Protests, and that report shall include the following:

- a) a summary of the procedures as required by this By-Law;
- b) the status of Service compliance with the said procedures;
- c) a summary of the training given to members with respect to policing First Nations occupations and protests;
- d) a summary of any incidents of police response to First Nations occupations and protests; and
- e) a summary of the steps taken by the Service to monitor and evaluate response to First Nations occupations and protests.

The following is a detailed response to each of the above noted requirements.

- a) "... a summary of the procedures as required by this By-Law..."

GO 230.03 provides guidelines and procedures regarding the Service's response to Indigenous occupations and protests.

GO 230.03 includes the following information:

1. Policy (Section 1.0)
2. Definitions (Section 2.0)
3. Procedures (Section 3.0) - Role of Service members

The GO places emphasis on officers to remain neutral, build trust, and use communication skills through negotiation, mediation, and dispute resolution.

With regards to Indigenous communities, the Indigenous Liaison Officer will build trust, maintain contacts, remain current on issues, facilitate communications, and provide advice to the Service Executive and Incident Commanders.

The GO provides direction for Incident Commanders in the event of an Indigenous occupation or protest, including multiple aspects of communication, mediation, and arrangement of appropriate resources.

- b) "... status of Service compliance with the said procedures..."

The Service maintains two Indigenous Liaison Officers (ILO) and seven Provincial Liaison Team (PLT) Officers. These officers fulfill the requirements of, and maintain compliance with, the GO.

The Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) developed and maintains a PLT. The Service currently has seven members involved as part of this team, to ensure police respond effectively and efficiently to major events involving First Nations. PLT members work with all involved parties leading up to, and during these events, to facilitate safe and lawful environments for the exercise of the rights to freedom of speech and peaceful assembly.

c) "... summary of training given to members with respect to policing First Nations occupations and protests ..."

ILOs receive training in Indigenous awareness (facilitated through the University of Alberta, Indigenous Canada Course and/or through the OPP), diversity and diversity related issues (facilitated through the Ontario Police College), and they attend the Fort Erie Native Friendship Centre for Indigenous sensitization workshops. Training is updated through courses, conferences, and/or workshops provided throughout the province and across Canada regularly.

PLT officers receive training through the OPP on Indigenous issues, diversity, culture, and effective management of disputes and protests. Training is periodically updated through courses, conferences and/or workshops.

d) "... summary of any incidents of police response to First Nations occupations and protests..."

On Saturday, July 27, 2024, the Service was made aware of a planned demonstration in support of a local movement recognized as 'Justice for Johnny'. This movement stemmed from a local incident where an Indigenous male was located deceased inside a residence affiliated to the drug subculture. Participants in the demonstration met at the 1 District (St. Catharines) Police building and proceeded on a peaceful walk on Welland Avenue to Raymond Street.

Utilizing an identified ILO and through mediation, the Service was able to negate any lengthy disruption to traffic flow and minimized the amount of time pedestrians were on roadways and at intersections. There were no police-related investigations stemming from this incident. This demonstration resulted in overtime expenditures, to ensure adequate resources were in place to ensure public safety.

On September 30, 2024, the annual march in recognition of Reconciliation Day took place in the Town of Fort Erie (TOFE). This march was coordinated through the efforts of the TOFE, the Service's ILOs, and Fort Erie Native Friendship Centre personnel. The march gained support from local schools, community groups and political figures. This march required resources from both the TOFE and the Service, to ensure the safety of all participants. On-duty frontline personnel and members from various District Community Oriented and Engagement (CORE) units were assigned to this event to ensure public safety.

- e) "... summary of steps taken by the Service to monitor and evaluate response to First Nations occupations and protests..."

To ensure the Service continues to monitor and evaluate responses, GO 230.03 is readily available and it is the responsibility of all members to be cognizant of, and to comply with.

It is the responsibility of ILOs, to monitor and evaluate police response and identify incidents and issues that are to be reported through the chain of command. Each incident or issue will be assessed, and the appropriate resources applied, while lines of communication remain open with our Indigenous community partners to build trust and ensure public safety.
