Analysis

The Niagara Regional Police Service has written policies that establish procedures and responsibilities for all members in the policing and management of Aboriginal occupations and protests within the Region of Niagara. These policies appear in General Order 230.03, entitled Policing Aboriginal Occupations & Protests. It is the policy of the Service to protect the individual rights guaranteed within federal and provincial laws, inclusive of those specifically respecting the rights of Aboriginal persons of Canada as set out in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

The Service recognizes that conflicts may arise as Aboriginal communities and various levels of government work to resolve outstanding issues associated with matters such as land claims, self-determination and Aboriginal or treaty rights. It is the role of the Service to make every effort prior to an event to understand the issues and to protect the rights of all involved parties throughout the incident.

Aboriginal occupation means: the seizure and control of an area of land arising from assertions of Aboriginal or treaty rights by members of an Aboriginal group (General Order 230.03)

Aboriginal trust means: a physical demonstration related to assertions of Aboriginal or treaty rights by members of an Aboriginal group. (General Order 230.03)

In accordance with By-Law No. 324-2012, the Chief shall make a written report to the Board each year in respect to Policing Aboriginal Occupations and Protests, and that report shall include the following:

- a) a summary of the procedures as required by this By-Law;
- b) the status of Service compliance with the said procedures;
- c) a summary of the training given to members with respect to policing Aboriginal occupations and protests;
- d) a summary of any incidents of police response to Aboriginal occupations and protests; and
- e) a summary of the steps taken by the Service to monitor and evaluate response to Aboriginal occupations and protests.

The following is a detailed response to each of the above noted requirements.

- a) "... a summary of the procedures as required by the By-Law..."

General Order 230.03, entitled Policing Aboriginal Occupations and Protests, provides guidelines and procedures regarding the Service's response to Aboriginal occupations and protests. This Order came into effect on January 28, 2014 and was updated in May 2018.

General Order 230.03 includes the following information:

- 1. Policy (Section 1.0)
- 2. Definitions (Section 2.0)
- 3. Procedures (Section 3.0)
 - Role of Service members

The Order places emphasis on officers to remain neutral, build trust, and use communication skills through negotiation, mediation, and dispute resolution.

With regards to Aboriginal communities, the Aboriginal Liaison Officer will: build trust, maintain contacts, remain current on issues, facilitate communications, and provide advice to the Service Executive and Incident Commanders.

The Order provides direction for Incident Commanders in the event of an Aboriginal occupation or protest, including multiple aspects of communication, mediation and arrangement of appropriate resources.

b) "... status of Service compliance with the said procedures ..."

The Service maintains two Aboriginal Liaison Officers and two Provincial Liaison Team Officers. These officers fulfill the requirements of and maintain compliance with the Order.

The Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) developed and maintains a Provincial Liaison Team (PLT). The Service currently has two members involved as part of this team, to ensure police respond effectively and efficiently to major events involving First Nations. PLT members work with all involved parties leading up to and during these events to facilitate safe and lawful environments for the exercise of the rights to freedom of speech and peaceful assembly.

c) "... summary of training given to members ..."

Aboriginal Liaison Officers receive training in Aboriginal awareness (facilitated through the OPP), diversity and diversity related issues (facilitated through the Ontario Police College), and they attend the Fort Erie Native Centre for Aboriginal sensitization workshops. Training is periodically updated through courses, conferences, or workshops.

PLT officers receive training through the OPP on Aboriginal issues, diversity, culture, and effective management of disputes and protests. Training is periodically updated through courses, conferences, or workshops.

d) "... summary of any incidents of police response to Aboriginal occupations and protests ..."

There was only one identified Aboriginal protest within Niagara. On December 4, 2021, Aboriginal peoples from the surrounding area staged a protest as a demonstration in solidarity of the Wet'suwet'en First Nation conflict involving a gas line project in British Columbia. The Service was the lead agency and received assistance from the Ontario Provincial Police, Niagara Parks Police and Canada Border Services Agency. The demonstration involved a disruption of vehicular traffic at the intersection of Stanley Avenue and Highway 420 and continued along Falls Avenue to the Rainbow Bridge in Niagara Falls. An Aboriginal drum ceremony took place on the Rainbow Bridge, again disrupting vehicular traffic. Service members monitored and ensured public safety. Approximately 100 participants were involved in the demonstration.

e) "... summary of steps taken to monitor and evaluate police response..."

To ensure the Service continues to monitor and evaluate responses:

General Order 230.03, entitled Policing Aboriginal Occupations and Protests, is readily available and is the responsibility of all members to be cognizant of, and to comply with.

It is the responsibility of Aboriginal Liaison Officers, to monitor and evaluate police response and identify incidents and issues which will be reported through the Chain of Command. Each incident or issue will be assessed, and the appropriate resources applied.
